Copy
of a programme of the Handel and Haydn Society
taken from the Columbian Centinel Wednesday morning
July 1, 1818

Oratorio
To be performed this evening at Boylston Hall by the Handel and Haydn Society, assisted by Mr. Incledon, and positively the last time the lovers of music will be delighted with the extraordinary powers of this eminent vocal performer in this town.

Order of Performance.
in two parts.

Part I

Song — Now heaven in fullest glory shone
Chorus — Achieved is the glorious work
Air — Great God what do I see and hear — Mr. Incledon.
Chorus — Great God, &c.
Air —
Air — The marvellous work, &c.
Chorus — And to the etherial vaults &c.
Duet — Ode to Charity — Messrs Incledon and Taylor.
Chorus — The horse and his rider, &c.

Part II

Recit. — Comfort ye my people ——— Mr. Incledon
Air — Every valley shall be exalted ——— " "
Chorus — And the glory of the Lord. &c
Air.
Chorus — The heavens are telling, &c.
Air — Total eclipse ——— Mr. Incledon
Chorus — He gave them hailstones for rain.
Chorus — Hallelujah

Tickets of admission may be had at One Dollar each at the stores of No. 6 Franklin street, J. R. Parker, Agent; No. 12 Cornhill, S. H. Parker's Circulating Library; and at G. Graupner & Co's Music store, Marlboro' street. Performance to commence precisely at 8 o'clock. July 1.

O. B. Stebbins